

Dear Ministry Leader,

Over the past twenty-plus years of counseling I have observed what helps leaders move more freely in their passions and giftings, finding more health and life in their personal life, family involvement, relationships, and leadership roles. I have developed a processing model that is helping leaders understand themselves, find healing from past influences, and move intentionally into healthy, fulfilling, Christ-honoring futures.

I would be honored to offer these monthly sessions to any pastor, missionary, or ministry leader that has a desire to walk more freely and develop more intentionality in their personal and spiritual lives. Come join us for these fun and insightful sessions!

My purpose is to help pastors and leaders feel less alone, less isolated, and find more hope as they get "unstuck" and grow in areas they desire, whether personal or organizational.

I was a pastor for over 20 years. I know exactly what it is like to wake up and attempt to build a relationship and cast vision with my wife, children, leaders, and my board, all while feeling like I needed a serious vacation. God has not designed us to go through life alone or carry our burdens alone. Let me help you in a confidential and encouraging way to work through some of the trials in your life.

Hope to see you all soon,

Tony
